Cold Weather Woes

As we have mentioned before, the cold weather is hard on water lines. In the last couple of weeks we have had numerous calls from residents who have had frozen service lines or meters. The Water Distribution crews have worked nine water main breaks already in 2014. Some have resulted in boil water orders for the residents in the area, but all have been worked and repaired in our recent extreme weather conditions.

With wind chills near 20° below zero, crews repair a water line on Laurel Street in January.

On February 3, crews worked overnight on Broadway to repair this broken 8" main.
